3-Day Weekend at Martha's Vineyard Cottage at 221 Newton Ave. Oak Bluffs
Before Memorial Day or after Sept. 5th.

On Lagoon Heights, an easy one-mile walk or bike ride to Oak Bluffs center with lots of restaurants, shops, entertainment, the waterfront and ferry terminal.

It's a quiet neighborhood with many year-round residents, right across from Lagoon Pond and a sweet, not crowded, family beach that allows dogs (one of the few). The mild current is great for swimming, (especially with young children) and for boating. We have a large inflatable boat, a row boat, and several life jackets.

The cottage has 2 bedrooms, with a queen bed and two twins – and one bathroom. There's a screened- and glassed-in porch and a quite private deck with an outdoor shower, deck furniture, and gas and charcoal grills. A pull-out sofa in the living room and futon on the porch provide more sleeping space. Plenty of room to sleep 4, and more if some are kids.

The house is heated and air-conditioned. Fully equipped eat-in kitchen with all appliances – including coffee maker, toaster and microwave, George Forman grill - pots, pans, dishes and utensils. Washer/dryer. No dishwasher. TV, cable, DVD/VCR (and a small collection of movies); also, books and some board games. There is no landline or internet connection at the cottage, but the beautiful Oak Bluffs library is a few blocks away with free wifi.

Ahava – “Love,” A Three-Session Study Group for You and Seven Friends

How are “love relationships” understood in Tanach? We will study love relationships between God and Israel; between Jacob and Rachel; and between Jonathan and David. What is the place of love and how is it expressed in each of these relationships? How does love transform those who experience it? We will seek some answers to these questions through close reading of the text, through the teachings of the rabbis, and through modern commentaries.

Time and location determined jointly.
